Organic Farming is critical for our small scale farmers because

- Chemical fertilizers affect the NPK / vital nutrients and small holder farmers do not have the machinery required to plough deep enough for the soils to rejuvenate.
- Chemical pesticides are hazardous to the health of farm workers, consumers and other food crops

Quote from an Indian Cotton Farmer:-

“A sustainable life is that of a farmer, the rest owe it to him”

Core Principles and Values

- Empowering rural and urban communities through trade and employment
- Conserving & preserving our natural resources and the environment which is critical to creating a sustainable economy

Our emphasis is on production of textiles are in ways that are non-toxic, ethical and sustainable. Using modern production techniques we blend traditional and contemporary techniques and designs to produce innovative, high fashion and quality textiles.
